CSU Educator and Leadership Programs

The Department of Educator and Leadership Programs at the Office of the Chancellor supports all 23 CSU campuses in achieving equity and excellence in educator preparation. Our campuses work with local school systems to prepare teachers for success, equipping them with the skills and experiences to deliver high-quality, culturally responsive instruction to ALL students.

The Deans of CSU colleges and schools of education embrace a set of signature pedagogies for teacher preparation. We want every program graduate to have the knowledge, skills and classroom experience to:
- Collaborate with other educators and families to deliver a high quality education for all students
- Demonstrate culturally responsive practices to ensure that all students learn and grow
- Teach and support all students successfully on day one as a beginning teacher

Campuses throughout the system are adopting the principles and methods of improvement science to continually elevate the quality of our teacher and educator preparation programs.

Given the California Department of Education's Global California 2030 initiative, The California State University system develops teachers who can prepare public school children and youth to participate, and lead, in a multicultural, multilingual society. California's Commission on Teacher Credentialing allows educators wishing to provide multilingual instruction to English Learners (ELs) to add Bilingual Authorizations to valid California teaching credentials. CSU campuses offer Bilingual Authorization in English plus the following languages: Arabic, Armenian, Cantonese, Filipino, Hmong, Japanese, Khmer, Korean, Mandarin, Portuguese, Punjabi, Spanish, and Vietnamese.
